

Summit on the Economic Status of Kentucky's Women

Implementation Strategies: Well-Being

A. Housing for many women is inadequate, creating hardships that can limit their ability to care properly for themselves and their children. Sources of federal and state funding to support access to safe and adequate housing should be identified and directed toward solving this problem.

- A. What are the tasks to be done and/or the activities to be initiated? (If within 6 months, highlight as a quick win--QW)
- Work with federal legislators to increase funding for Section 8/subsidized housing.
 - Develop better strategies to get information about housing – related programs (food, utility, ect.) to those who need it.
 - When areas are “redeveloped,” take steps to ensure that those who need access get back in.
 - Work to see that universal design is incorporated into renovation and development to insure accessibility.
 - Work to see that the housing codes are enforced.
 - Work with law enforcement to increase patrols in areas with subsidized housing and areas with significant crime problems.
 - Establish and promote programs to provide cell phones to women who live in areas where they feel unsafe.

Well-Being Parking Lot

- Go to local health department → family planning for all.
- Good mental health/sa and access to mental health services.
- Medicaid reimbursement for a continuum of mental health services.
- Health insurance for low-income parents.
- Decreasing the rate of smoking among Kentucky women.
- Clarify language of D.2. → Coverage for prescription contraceptives.
- Subsidized child-care/day-care/incorporate/identify as an education needs requiring state/federal funding.
- Health insurance for low-income individuals based in poverty-level (federal) not income (raise income limits).
- Change poverty level guidelines.
- Examine the “flaws” in existing systems. I.e.: Once in public housing, not eligible for rental assistance (Sec. 8) because you “have” housing. Folks end up “stuck” where they are.
- Another flaw/breakdown: (I) applied for rental assistance-working minimum wage – was decided because my child support added to my monthly income – even though I did not receive it.
- All health care services for undocumented women remove legal barriers.
- Paying attention to the specific needs of low-income women and people with disabilities in regards to all health services.
- Holistic sex education incorporating personal dignity, mental health, self-esteem, healthy relationships, character development.
- Expand task force subgroups.
